Figures Indicate Constant but Not Rapidly Increasing Pertended to the Region Population. the Negro Population.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL

Washington, July 7.-Negro population is not increasing so rapidly as is the white population in the Southern States. This is one conclusion that may be drawn from an elaborate study of negro statistics of the census of 1900 by Professor Walter E. Willeox of Cornell University, which will soon be published by the Census Office as a special bulletin.

There is much in this publication sup-porting the theory that, if present ten-dencies in the South continue for a few decades, the negro population in that sec tion will become stationary or will actual ly decrease. The proportion of negroes to whites in the Southern States has been rapidly de-creasing ever since the census of 1850, as and 1900 the Southern negro population increased 134.9 per cent. In 1909 the negroes constituted 22.1 per cent, or nearly onethird of the total population of the South-of Whenington Territory.

"As to the statement that Senator Turner was associated with the notorious regime of Judge Busteed, the Senator was still a boy in his teens when that Judge was driven from the bench, and was not appointed Marshai until more than sax years thereafter.

"Senator Turner has long been a steriling and incurriptible Democrat, who has the cuttre confidence of the party in the Pacific Northwest, and his nomination for Vice President would immensely strengthen the ticket in that section of the country.

"His nomination means twenty electoral yotes for the Democratic ticket, which are the does not size up to the situation from the standapoint of intellect, morals and attainments, to those of us who have known, him for twenty years, is a dismal failure."

No. 384-Although 'tub dresses' should be so made and trimmed that they can be laundered without any difficulty, many are so elaborate that they can only be dry cleaned, which is rather an expensive process.

A stylish shirt-waist suit is shown here that will stand any number of trips to the laundry and return each time looking just like new. It is developed in blue and white cotton cheviot, with white battste embroklery and mottles for trimming. The pattern is provided for a glove-fitted feather-boned lining that closes at the center back and will serve in place of a corset cover.

Tucks in front are stitched half way down and provide becoming fullness over the bust, blousing well at the waist. The back is plain across the shoulders and blouses over the girlle. This girdle has a deep point in front below the waist and three at the back above the belt line. The pattern would be appropriate for a separate girlle to be worn with different blouses.

866. LADIES FANCY SHIRT WAIST. 866. LADIEES SEVEN-GORED SKIRT. Waist, 32, 34, 36, 38 and 49-inch bust.

Skirt, 22, 24, 26, 28 and 39-inch waist. A transparent embroidery coilar completes the neck, and large motifs decorate the waist back and front. One-piece histop sleeves fit the arm closely from shoulder to ethow and are quite wide at the wrist, where the fullness is gathered and arranged on fancy cuffs of embroidery. The ektri is made with seven gores fitted smoothly around the waist and hips, without darts. It closes invisibly at the center back in habit effect. Seams in the skirt are stitched flatly to a round yoke depth.

center back in habit effect. Seams in the skirt are stitched flatly to a round yoke depth.

Extensions are added at each side of the front and side gores, also at the front edge of the back gore. They are arranged in two forward and stwo backward turning plaits at each side of the seam forming an inverted double box-plait. They are stitched down part way and flatly pressed their entire length. The plaits flars smartly, at the hem and provide a stylish sweep around the bottom.

Large motifs finish the upper part of the plaits and emphasize the yoke line around the bilbs. Costumes in this style may be made of pongee, tuffeta, veiling, foulard and voil, as well as fancy wash fabrics. Lace, embroidery or stitched motifs of silk in pontrasting color make appropriate trimmings.

To make the waist in the medium size will require two and one-fourth yards of material, forty-four inches wide, with three-fourths yard for trimming. The pattern, No. 363, is cut in sizes for a 32, 34, 35, 38 and 40 inch bust measure.

To make the skirt in the medium size will require five yards of material forty-four inches wide. The pattern, No. 364, is cut in sizes for a 22, 24, 25, 28 and 30 inch waist measure.
